“ I am a warehouse Leadman for Western Sugar in Scottsbluff, Nebraska and Bill would come to my warehouse and pick up a load of sugar for Safeway to take back to Denver.

We do a first come, first serve basis and Bill would be the first one sitting on the lot to get loaded first most of the time so Bill and I would talk about things before we open. We would always give each other a hard time and make each other laugh!! I will miss you!

Rest in peace my friend.

Sandy,

My thought and prayers are with you and family.

I remember like it was yesterday me and my father was sitting together in route of Washington State, from Denver to drop off a load in his truck when he was working with Great Wide. It was a heck of a trip I tell you due to weather issues. Putting chains on a semi-truck in 3 feet of ice was not fun but the rest of the trip was a blast with my dad. We went out to eat in a place (I cannot remember the name at this time or where it was at) and a guy had had a slab of fresh concrete poured and had no tape or signs up and I stepped in and my dad started cracking up and said you never seen it coming huh? He always had things to say and had a great sense of humor and I will always hold onto the good memories we had. I will love and miss you dad! Take care of him god for he is in a better place.
